

Safe the Date: Virtual Conference on Medical Education 4-5 November 2020

Dear colleagues,

We invite you to participate in and contribute to a unique virtual conference on medical education to be convened by Witten/Herdecke University:

Learning by Contributing to Patient Care - Envisioning a New Role for Students
Including a Symposium on Student Engagement during the COVID 19 Pandemic

The virtual conference will take place on Wednesday and Thursday 4-5 November 2020 per Zoom or Webinar.

Oral presentations, Workshops, Parallel sessions and Plenary Discussions will be about "Learning during active Student Participation", "Students Participation in Clinical Education Wards", "Undergraduate Students as Health Coaches" as well as a special symposium on "Student engagement during the Corona pandemic 2020".

As Keynote Speakers prominent experts as Liz Gaufberg , Adi Haramati and Tim Dornan e.g. will contribute and Ronald Harden (General Secretary of AMEE) joins us for the Closing Plenary Discussions.

We are very much interested to receive further contributions for a workshop, poster session or symposia as well as for our special session with student projects

Your contribution is very welcome, so please submit an abstract as soon as registration and submission opens

- Registration opens 20 August 2020,
- Submission of Abstracts from 20 August to 20 September 2020
- Letter of Acceptance by 30 September

Accepted abstracts of your presentations are to be published in <https://www.egms.de/static/de/meetings/index.htm>.

For further information visit our homepage <https://students-in-healthcare.uni-wh.de/> or write an email!

Best regards on behalf of the Organisation Committee

Christian Scheffer and Beate Stock-Schröer

Integriertes Begleitstudium Anthroposophische Medizin
Fakultät für Gesundheit / Department Humanmedizin
Universität Witten/Herdecke